

ADVENT FOUR: Love

We light this candle of love,
remembering your abiding love for us,
and manifested through the person and life of Jesus.

Sharing love in this season of anticipation,
watching and waiting for your Holy Light,
we come in faith and say:
Amen! Come, Lord Jesus!

CHRISTMAS EVE

We light this luminous Christ candle,
to celebrate the coming of Emmanuel: God with us!

As followers of Christ in the world you love,
may we radiate your holy light
and embody your lavish love.
We come in faith and say:
Amen! Come, Lord Jesus!

Advent Candle Lighting

An Advent wreath is a circular garland of evergreen branches representing eternity. Set on the branches of the wreath are four candles, three blue or purple candles and one pink candle. In the centre of the wreath sits a white candle.

During the season of Advent, one candle on the wreath is lit each Sunday as part of Advent services. They remind us to light the way for the coming of Jesus, the Christ. The word advent itself derives from the Latin adventus meaning coming.

On the first Sunday of Advent, the first blue or purple candle is lit. In the rite that follows, this candle represents hope or expectation in anticipation of the coming of Christ.

On the second Sunday of Advent, the first and second blue or purple candles are lit, the second representing peace and the coming of Christ as a bearer of peace.

On the third Sunday of Advent, two blue or purple candles are lit as well as the pink candle. The pink candle represents the joy of Mary and of the shepherds in hearing the tidings of good news told to them by the angels. The pink candle is sometimes called the Mary candle.

On the fourth and final Sunday of Advent, all four candles are lit, the final blue or purple candle representing love, the love of God manifested in Jesus.

On Christmas Eve, the white centre candle is lit, along with all the other candles. The white candle represents the life and light of Christ that has come into the world. As a colour, white is often associated with light and purity.
